PRE-RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT via Moodle SSD Cohort Commons (December, 2022)

Special Presentation

MSD - The Art and Ministry of Spiritual Direction

Presenter: Fr. Stephen Coffey, O.S.B. Cam., D.Min. (Cand.) – via Vimeo

Presentation Description:

Historically, spiritual direction has taken many different forms, exhibiting both change and continuity over its long history. Christian scholars have focused their study on spiritual direction as practiced by monastics and lay people associated with religious orders, especially by the fourth-century desert abbas and ammas, Benedictine monastics, late medieval non-monastics, 16th- century Jesuits devoted to the Spiritual Exercises, and 17th- to 19th- century ordained directors of conscience. Vatican II marked a theological and spiritual shift that heralded the recovery of the desire for spiritual direction and a renewal of its practice by and for laypersons. This recovery and renewal continue today in connection to developments within Christian spirituality and in response to our current context. The purpose of this presentation is to provide an appreciative introduction to the history of the Christian ministry of spiritual direction, introduce some of its most trusted spiritual guides, and invite exploration of how the roots of this ministry can positively continue to feed its growth and adaptation in contemporary forms of service.

Addendum Presentation

Models of Spiritual Direction

Presenter: Lisa Myers, M.A.

Presentation Description:

Looking at the history of Christian spiritual direction invites recognition of how the conditions of life and the state of the church, as well as contemporary concerns and issues of theology and spirituality, have combined to influence how direction was understood, and therefore, how and by whom and for whom it was made available. By surveying what we know about the conditions, focus, and distinctive elements of historical forms of direction it is possible to create a typology that allows us to easily compare and contrast the ways in which the dynamic elements of spiritual direction and the relationship between director and directee, guide and guided, have both varied and stayed the same over time. The purpose of this presentation is to build upon “The Art and Ministry of Spiritual Direction” presentation by introducing our typology to assess several historical models of spiritual direction and to compare them with the contemporary “contemplative-evocative” model of spiritual direction that is taught and practiced in the CQ SSD.

OPENING RESIDENCY – Retreat Center (January 25-30, 2023)

Introductory Presentations

Presenters: Wil Hernandez, Ph.D. / Lisa Myers, M.A.

CQ Asia-SSD Learning Community Covenant of Shared Intention

Presentation Description:

At the very beginning of the Opening Residency, participants are introduced to the Learning Community Covenant of Shared Intention and are asked to commit to mutual responsibility for learning together in pursuit of desired outcomes for personal growth, discernment of gifts, and development of skills essential to the practice of excellence in the ministry of spiritual direction. The purpose of this presentation is to reinforce our non-negotiable commitments to one another in our varied roles to deepen our experience and enlarge our capacity for compassionate and transformative presence, prayerful listening, discernment, and integration of contemplation-and-action in who we are and how we practice spiritual direction.

Introduction to Mentoring in Community (MinC) and Appreciative Inventory (AI) Assessment-Discernment

Presentation Description:

The Mentoring in Community program is a core expression of the communal dimension of the SSD. Participation in a small group with other members of the cohort is a critical aspect of the spiritual experience and ministry training, the personal growth, and skills development of the SSD. Each group is led by a trained mentor who is a practicing spiritual director and is familiar with the SSD program. The purpose of this presentation is to acquaint program participants with the role of their mentor and their roles as members of a mentoring group.

The Appreciative Inventory provides a description of the gifts, skills, and personal capacities of the practitioner of contemplative-evocative spiritual guidance. It represents standards of personal character and behaviors to which we, as spiritual directors, aspire. As such, it is the statement of desired outcomes for the SSD and beyond. The purpose of this presentation is to introduce the AI and the Guide for Reflection which explains how each one is asked to engage the AI personally as a guide for appreciative self-assessment and vocational discernment and engage it with their mentoring group as a process of co-assessment and co-discernment in community. Spiritual Practice takes place in mentoring groups as members are introduced to the companioning process that they will be using with one another for the duration of the SSD program---beginning with each one sharing his/her spiritual autobiography and sharing reflection on select portions of the Appreciative Inventory during the Opening Residency.

Special Feature Series

Henri Nouwen: CenterQuest Inspiration and Guide

Presenter: Wil Hernandez, Ph.D.

Presentation Description:

This three-part series highlights in an overview fashion the core conviction of Henri Nouwen, one of the greatest spiritual writers of the last century, on what constitutes the schematic trilogy of the spiritual life: communion, community, commission---foundational dynamics that form and inform the general orientation and perspectives of our CenterQuest program as a whole.

The purpose of this presentation is to underscore the invaluable influence of Henri Nouwen's spiritual writings in CQ's distinctive practice of spiritual guidance through his key constructs of spiritual identity, solitude, silence, presence, contemplation, hospitality, etc. that continue to inspire and guide us at CenterQuest. Spiritual Practice includes sharing reflections on the presentation in mentoring groups and practicing presence in community as a cohort (via Companions in Community).

CP I - Contemplative Prayer I (A Way of Seeing)

Instructors: A: Wil Hernandez, Ph.D. / Lance Ng, M.A. and O: Gerard Booy, D.D. / Amy Seidlitz

Course Description:

CP I addresses the importance of cultivating a contemplatively grounded life that will inform and sustain an effective spiritual direction practice. Emphasis is on understanding and experiencing contemplative prayer as a way of seeing. Participants learn about, practice, and discuss ways to cultivate awareness of themselves, others, God, and the world of God's creation. In addition to the practice of noticing and gazing, participants explore how a contemplative way of seeing invites and opens persons to insights into the More that God longs for them to see. The purpose of this course is to provide the first of a two-part introduction to the concepts, language, and experience of Christian contemplation and the transformative part that it plays in prayer, life, and ministry of the contemplative-evocative spiritual director.

Spiritual practices include the examen, journaling, visual meditation, and contemplative walk.

CP II - Contemplative Prayer II (A Way of Listening)

Instructors: A: Wil Hernandez, Ph.D. / Marie de Guzman and O: Gerard Booy, D.D. / Grace Kim, M.A.

Course Description:

This course emphasizes contemplative prayer as a way of listening—cultivating our awareness and ability to attend, wait, attune, rest, and be in the presence of God, self, others, and the world. Our focus is on presence, stillness, and openness as paths to centered listening, which is a holy practice at the core of spiritual direction. Listening prayer is a foundational practice of being in the world that allows for the transformative work of the Divine in and through us. The course helps facilitate the cultivation and development of the interior awareness and skills necessary to be a listening presence in the world, without which a spiritual direction practice falters. The purpose of this course sequel is to provide the second of a two-part introduction to the concepts, language, and experience of Christian contemplation and the transformative part that it plays in the prayer, life, and ministry of the contemplative-evocative spiritual director. Spiritual practices include contemplative listening prayer, contemplative walk, and individual and group lectio divina.

ISD – Individual Spiritual Direction

Instructors: A & O: Lisa Myers, M.A. / Maria Bowen, Ph.D.

This is a two-part module focused on individual spiritual direction. Part One is one week of concentrated preparation; Part Two is three weeks of mentored/supervised practicum. Preparation consists of an introduction to the content and dynamics of contemplative-evocative individual spiritual direction and a summary review of prior reading, instruction, and experience (OR, CP I, CP II, PD I, PD II, and mentoring group companioning) that can be concretely translated into practice with a directee. Preparation involves participants in online instruction, forum interaction, and discussion via Zoom. Practicum consists of an orientation and three weeks of doing spiritual direction with fellow cohort members with an observing supervisor/mentor who can assist the process when needed, answer questions, and give feedback. During this practicum period, participants will engage in four rounds of “real play” (one-on-one SD sessions) in both dyads and mentoring groups (via web connect). The purpose of this course is to ready participants to begin the seven-month formal practicum phase (directing two people and engaging in supervision). SDS – Spiritual Direction Supervision

Instructors: A: Daniel Yi, Ph.D. / Maria Chan, D.Min. O: Maria Chan, D.Min. / Sr. Lalie, RVM

Course Description:

The Guidelines for Ethical Conduct by Spiritual Directors International (SDI) calls for practicing spiritual directors to receive one-on-one and/or peer-group supervision on a regular basis. Supervision provides spiritual directors with an opportunity to contemplate their experience of themselves as spiritual directors with a more experienced spiritual director or a group of spiritual directors. In supervision, spiritual directors focus on their own personal growth and development as a director in service to the directee's wellbeing. In this course, participants will review the theological, philosophical, and ethical foundations of supervision for spiritual directors, receive an overview of the theories and methods of supervision, and discuss the rationale for their faithful engagement in it. In addition, participants will explore some means of self-care and engage in contemplative self-supervision, both as an ongoing personal/professional practice and in preparation for ongoing meetings with a supervisor.

FOURTH QUARTER (Jan. 8-Mar. 16, 2024)

Online Course # 7 (Jan. 8-Feb. 3, 2024)

GSG - Group Spiritual Guidance

Core Instructor: Lisa Myers, M.A.

Course Facilitators: Gerard Booy, D.D., Nina Lau-Branson, M.B.A., Amy Seidlitz, Marie de Guzman

Co-Facilitators: SSD Mentors

Course Description:

This course is an opportunity to further explore the experience of contemplative community and group spiritual guidance as it was introduced and facilitated in each mentoring group at the Opening Residency, engaged each quarter as part of the appreciative assessment-discernment process, and correlated with Visio and Lectio Divina in CP II.

“An Open Circle” describes the nature of the group and its process as it is designed to enable an experience of welcome and receptivity with God and others in community. “Deep to Deep” describes the model of group direction developed by the instructor as a way to foster a distinctively deep intimate experience of shared presence in the practice of group guidance. Two formats for structured group companionship and one format for structured group direction are based on this specific definition and detailed model. The Companions in Community (CinC) format is first introduced at the Opening Residency. The format identified as CompanionsTogether (CT) and used in the SSD mentoring groups is the focus of teaching and praxis in this module. The purpose of this module is to use the readings, videos, praxis, and reflections to enable participants to join intention, understanding, and experience in the roles of participant and facilitator as they engage a basic format for structured group spiritual companionship that can be built upon and adjusted to meet a variety of needs. At the close of the module and during the Closing Residency, cohort members will also have the opportunity to participate with their mentoring groups in the third format for structured group spiritual direction based on the “Open Circle” definition and “Deep to Deep” model called JourneyShare Direction Group (JSDG). Spiritual practices for this module include participation and facilitation of communal contemplative prayer and sharing silence, practicing spiritual companionship as both participant and facilitator, and engaging guided practices of individual and shared reflection.

expansive adaptation of “The Critical Journey” paradigm popularized by Janet Hagberg and Robert Guelich. Through a combination of forum and small group interactions via Zoom, participants grapple with the evident correlation between journey stages and the process of spiritual transformation. The purpose of this course is to learn how to maximize the employment of certain spiritual direction dynamics (such as listening focus, validation points, gentle probing, evocative questions) to cater to directee’s varying life-stages. Practices include incorporating participants’ spiritual autobiography as written and shared in the OR in assessing one’s current home stage, and culminates with a Grand Examen exercise (focusing on the participants SSD journey).

Group Spiritual Guidance

Facilitators: Lisa Myers, M.A. and the SSD Mentors

Practicum Description:

The GSD practicum facilitated by trained mentors focuses on engaging participants in the experience of two Open Circle formats of contemplative-evocative spiritual guidance within a “live” communal setting at the CR: Companions in Community (CinC) and JourneyShare Direction Group (JSDG). The first format is designed for congregations and faith communities as a formational process of contemplative listening and discernment. The second is designed to assist a presence-oriented contemplative stance focused on the reflection the participant has done as part of his/her SSD mentor-assisted self-assessment and discernment process. Each of the two 3 -hour sessions incorporates group reflection and evaluation and reflective debriefing in a plenary forum to share with others the highlights of their personal and group experience.

ST – Spiritual Direction and Social Transformation

Facilitator: TBD

Course Description:

This course is an introduction to the ways in which contemplative-evocative spiritual direction may assist directees to recognize how their social location and history shape their image of God and understanding of God's purpose in the world, hear and embrace their own specific calls to seek social transformation, and access the spiritual resources they need to sustain their calls in work and prayer. After a brief survey of the biblical, theological, spiritual and psychological foundations for social involvement as a practice of compassion that seeks justice for all people, participants will be invited to consider a variety of ways in which just compassion may be expressed in enlarging circles of community and how they can be equipped to encourage practices of social concern in the lives of their directees. The purpose of this course is to demonstrate the fundamental connection between personal and social transformation and motivate and equip spiritual directors to fully integrate both dimensions of the Christian spiritual life in their practice of spiritual direction.

HIGHLY RECOMMENDED POST-PROGRAM ONLINE COURSE via Moodle SD Online Courses page site (TBD) - This 4-week course is offered after the SSD program cycle and is open to anyone with experience facilitating group spiritual companionship as it was originally developed as part of the affiliated ministries Companions for the Journey or JourneyMates.

GSD – Group Spiritual Direction

Facilitator: TBD

Course Description:

This intensive praxis-focused course involves each week facilitating spiritual direction in a three-hour meeting with a face-to-face praxis group of 3-5 members, and engaging in a one-hour plenary Zoom with classmates and instructors. The JourneyShare format for group direction extends the movements of the structured process of companionship used in the Companions in Community and CompanionsTogether formats offered in the SSD module on Group Spiritual Guidance (GSG). At the beginning of this course, participants compare the formats and review the Open Circle Covenants of Shared Intention that specify the practices, processes, rhythms, and disciplines engaged in the three formats. During the course, participants revisit the way that the Deep-to-Deep model intrinsic to the formats prioritizes the shared experience of contemplative presence to God, self, and one another in both the intentional means and desired outcome of their group facilitation. The purpose of this course is to enable spiritual directors exploring a call to group spiritual guidance to gain experience on how intentionality and structure can make group direction a safe place for group members to learn to practice presence, mutual guidance, and co-discernment with one another and in everyday life.
